

Download Youth Suicide Prevention Programs A Resource Guide

Developmentally, the years between childhood and adulthood represent a critical period of transition and significant cognitive, mental, emotional, and social change. While adolescence is a time of tremendous growth and potential, navigating new milestones in preparation for adult roles involving education, employment, relationships, and living circumstances can be difficult. We are excited to announce that our popular online course, Locating and Understanding Data for Suicide Prevention, will be replaced with a new version in May. If you are enrolled in the current course and would like to finish it, you will need to do so by May 9, 2019. Youth Suicide Prevention, Intervention, and Postvention. In Washington State, suicide is the second leading cause of death for teens 15 to 19 years old. This guide is designed to help AI/AN communities and those who serve them develop effective, culturally appropriate suicide prevention plans.
